IMPORTANT INFORMATION

Restrictions:

You may be sharing the aircraft with others so it may have limitations as to the number of people that may accompany the patient.

There are no guarantees as to availability either during the in-bound or out-bound flight request.

All patients/passengers are responsible for their own ground transportation, room and board arrangements for all scheduled and unplanned expenses in the event of a flight delay or cancellation.

Physical Requirements:

If traveling on commercial flights is medically contraindicated, then explain why this is the case.

You must be ambulatory and can climb stairs with little or no assistance.
